Outcomes triangle: strong communities

This outcomes triangle gives an overview of culture and sport's contribution to better outcomes for strong communities. It suggests local outcomes at service, intermediate and overarching strategic outcome levels.

More communities empowered to do things their way Strong, attractive and thriving neighbourhoods

Reduced deprivation and inequalities, and increased social mobility

More integrated and resilient communities

Intermediate outcomes

More young people as active citizens

More people participating in social action and local decision making Increased social investment, philanthropy and giving

Increased volunteering and reciprocity

Local services are delivered by a diverse range of providers including civil society organisations and SME's

Increased attractiveness of places to live, work and visit

Service outcomes

More people volunteering and involved in community life through culture and

Increased attendances and active participation by (disadvantaged/vulnerable) young people and adults in culture and sport

More people in paid and unpaid work in culture and sport

More people gaining new knowledge and skills through culture and sport

Increased growth and capacity of local culture and sport voluntary and community

Improved culture and sport offer and quality of place Increased resident satisfaction with culture and sport in their local area

Increased efficiency and productivity in the delivery of culture and sport